The Happy Kid Traveling Co. Helps Families

Save Money When Traveling to Colorado

Children's equipment rental company provides all the comforts of home while you are away

Denver, CO (July 9, 2008): The Happy Kid Traveling Co. is a full service children's equipment rental company headquartered in the Metro Denver area. The Happy Kid Traveling Co. assists traveling families by personally delivering and setting up high quality products at their destination in Colorado. They will have everything a family needs waiting for them and save them the hassle and expense of checking it at the airport. They can rent a wide variety of popular name brand infant, toddler, and children's items such as car seats, cribs, strollers, toys and so much more.

Every item is safety inspected and sanitized prior to delivery. All of the equipment meets or exceeds all current safety standards. The staff is kept knowledgeable and educated on all of the rapidly changing industry standards.

Owner, Jennifer Carlson, takes the safety of her clients and products very seriously. Deb and Jim Callery of Fairplay recently described The Happy Kid Traveling Co. as, "Efficient, friendly service with prompt delivery of very clean products. We love having everything at our house ready for our grandchildren to arrive."

Jennifer Carlson founded The Happy Kid Traveling Co. in 2008. She takes great pride in her job as a mom. Having three 7 year olds she realizes how stressful and expensive traveling with kids can be. Jennifer wanted to help other families save money and try to make one aspect of life a bit easier for others. When the kids are happy, mom and dad are happy.

Jennifer has plans to work with and donate to various charitable organizations, such as shelters, children's hospitals, and many others in the near future.
